

Laravel Documentation

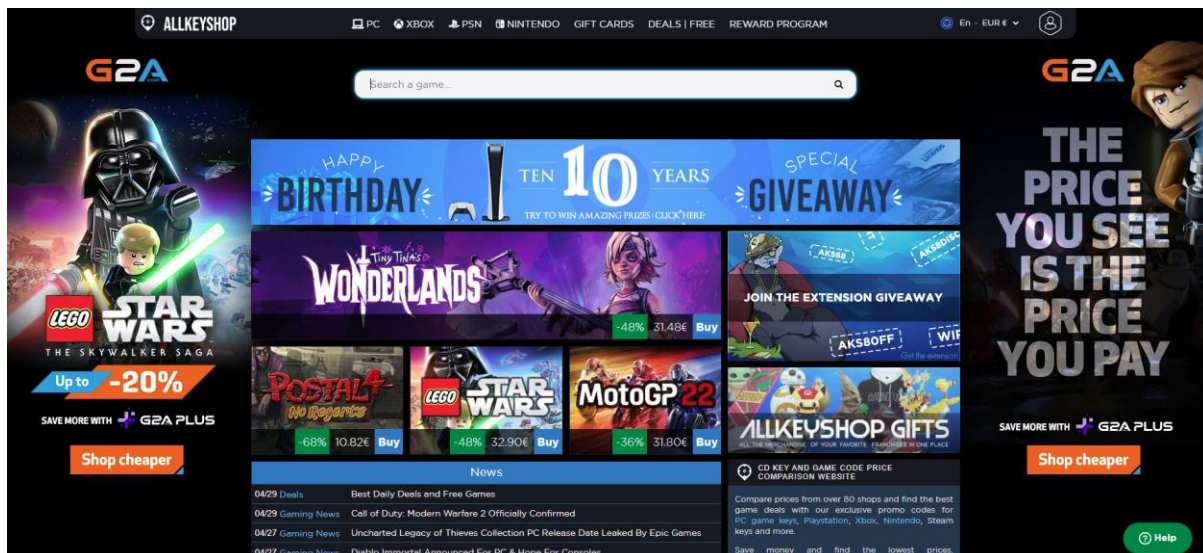

Watching Laravel Tutorials helped us to start the project as we got inspired to use this platform instead of plain HTML and CSS. Our team worked hard to learn this new technology and we made good progress along the way.

Allkeyshop

Below you can find several websites we took inspiration from. Allkeyshop was the first website we looked at. They gather thousands of videogames from different platforms, and it displays different prices taken from several retailers.

GG.Deals

GG Deals is a more modern and neater version of Allkeyshop. The interface is more user friendly, and it also has a Steam integration with it.

Microsoft homepage Style

Our website style is strongly influenced by the Microsoft website design. It looks neat and clean and that is the main reason we got inspiration from it. Users can navigate easily through it and the overall experience is pleasant. That is what we were aiming for when thinking about our users.
